

CHECKPOINT ENTERTAINMENT

-Checkpoint Entertainment is your one stop shop for the best deals on your favorite games, movies, and electronics from current and past generations.

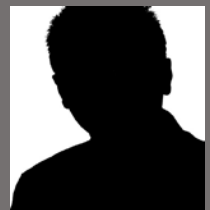

-When it comes to buying video games and other expensive entertainment electronics, spending a hefty sum of money is not difficult to do. As time goes on prices go up. Even on older items that you can't find in stores anymore. At Checkpoint Entertainment, we put the gamers first. We understand that there are lots of great games out there and people want to play them. However, they don't always want to pay full price. The used gaming market doesn't have many competitors, but it is a market that has benefits for buyers and sellers. We aim to give the consumer the best value for the games they want, and the best return on investment for ones they are ready to hand off to another player.

Jackson Mayfield is a junior in college. He spends his days in the classroom, and his nights in his apartment gaming until the wee hours of the night. His collection is pretty extensive, but he's always looking at the next big thing that comes out. He wants to dump off some of his old merchandise so he can stay up to date and buy the new games.

Melissa O'Brien is a mother of 3 kids, a full time employee at the local school's kitchen and a loving wife. She cares dearly about her family, and this is especially prominent around the holidays. She always does what she can to give her family the best. When money is tight however, she needs options. Her two boys love playing video games and paying full price for the new ones really takes a hit on her holiday budget. If only there were a way to get the same thing, without having to pay top dollar.

Brian McCracken is going onto his late 50s and plans on retiring from his job soon. He has many things in mind to do to his house once he kicks back and enjoys his free time. One of those things he wants to do is stock up on some games that he loved playing when he was a child back in the 1980s. He used to spend hours on hours in front of the TV battling his friends, and he is really craving that nostalgia.
